

ABOUT PRAIA DA LUZ

There are documents that indicate 1673 as the year of foundation of the village, however its origins date back to very ancient times, as evidenced by the ruin of the fortress. In the Middle Ages, Luz was called Nossa Senhora da Luz. Recently, the name Praia da Luz became common, associated with the large influx of tourists, during the 20th century. There are archaeological remains that prove the existence of the locality for several millennia.

SOBRE A PRAIA DA LUZ

Existem documentos que indicam 1673 como o ano de fundação da aldeia, no entanto as suas origens remontam a épocas muito antigas, como o comprova a ruina da fortaleza. A sua origem está relacionada com a presença de pescadores no litoral nos séculos XV e XVI.

ABOUT BURGAU

Burgau belongs to the municipality of Vila do Bispo, part of a region that has a proven record of human presence since prehistory. There are references to the existence of Burgau in 1600 and its main economic activity, fishing. Burgau is part of the Parque Natural do Sudoeste Alentejano e Costa Vicentina, which extends along the south and west coast of Portugal, as far as the Alentejo municipality of Sines.
